Established nearly 50 years ago, the Company is a leading 3D modeling and steel detailing firm in North America. As the industry leader of technology within its industry, the Company offers a range of services and integrated technology solutions across the steel design and construction value chain. Products and services include 3D modeling, steel detailing, building information modeling (BIM), pre-construction, construction management, and general contracting services. The Company's hybrid services model combines highly skilled, on-site resources with cost and round-the-clock advantages of offshore operations. It has a significant investment in global corporate IT infrastructure and vast experience working seamlessly in different countries across multiple time zones. Headquartered in Canada, with offices around the world, and strategic initiatives to expand into other emerging markets, the Company is uniquely positioned to strengthen its market position as a leading global provider of design- and construction-related products and services. Ownership is open to selling the business as a whole or in part.
